The Solution to your Problem - your drain system - is simple and affordable

Environmental Biotech can manage your Drain System so that you can focus 100% on your number one job...

...getting food out of the kitchen door at a profit!

An Environmental Biotech service technician will:

- Thoroughly inspect the entire drain system of your facility, to include video inspection of drain lines as required.
- Investigate any existing or potential sources of unpleasant odours.
- Recommend any immediate work that may be required to avoid emergencies or higher cost work in the future.
- Provide a written report of the inspection findings and recommendations.
